

Welcome to AVA fyi

This is the first installment of a new service called AVA fyi (for your information) which we are launching in order to provide AVA users and other interested parties with technical information, training tips, new product information, exhibition news and other useful updates. AVA fyi will replace the traditional 6 monthly paper printed magazine AVA Dialogue. As well as being environmentally friendly (all those trees and delivery vans), fyi will enable us to bring you up to date information much more quickly. The e-mail/ html format also allows subscribers to pick and choose exactly which articles they want to look at - so you won't be swamped with a mass of information which is not particularly relevant to you. The e-mail itself will contain only brief headers for articles (such as the preview of AVA 4.0 below) - readers who wish to read a particular article in full will simply click the link to open the relevant page on avacadcam.com in their preferred web browser.

You have received this e-mail because your address is on AVA's database as a current, past or potential future user or purchaser of AVA software. Please click here to fill in a very simple form letting us know whether you wish to receive future editions of AVA fyi at this e-mail address, a different address or not at all. If the latter is the case and you do not feel that this service will be useful, you need only answer the first question on the form to unsubscribe; please accept our apologies for cluttering your mail box on this occasion. If you do wish to receive future AVA fyi mails, please take a moment to answer the other questions in order to let us know whether you were able to access the links, see the images and so on - various web browsers and mail handling applications behave differently and we want to be sure that the format which we adopt works well for everyone.

Please feel free to forward this mail to anyone else who you think might be interested in receiving AVA fyi.

Coming soon...AVA 4.0

January 2009 will see the launch of AVA 4.0 - our biggest re-write and upgrade of the software for eight years! Click here to read more about why you can expect it to revolutionize the way you do things....
